

Analytical Writing Essay Outline

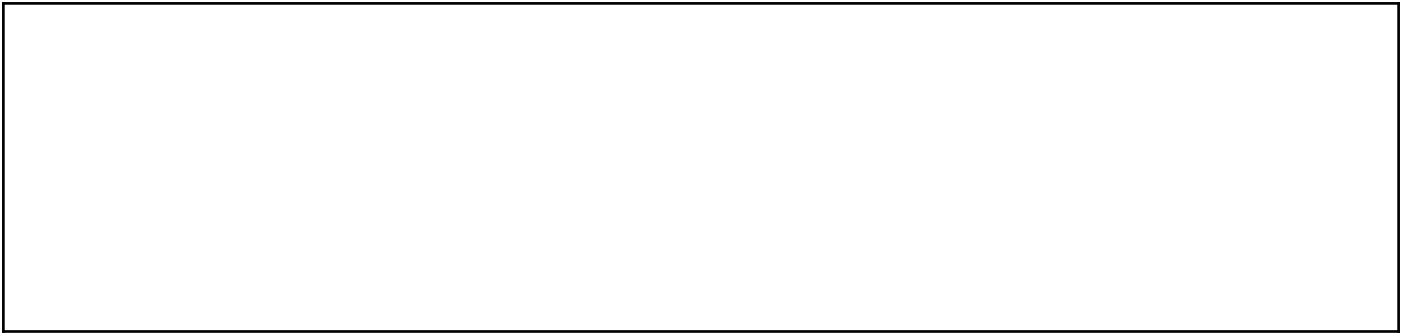

Prompt or Topic: What are the effects of domestic violence in Cambodian society?
Introduction
Hook Idea	Domestic violence is often hidden behind closed doors, but its impact spreads far beyond the home, affecting families, communities, and the future of society.
Thesis/Main Argument	Domestic violence in Cambodian society leads to serious physical and mental health problems, is caused by gender inequality, alcohol abuse, and harmful cultural beliefs, and results in long-term social and economic consequences
Body Paragraph 1
Topic Sentence	Domestic violence severely harms the physical and mental health of victims.
Evidence 1	According to the World Health Organization, around 1 in 3 women (arround 30%) worldwide have experienced physical or sexual violence in their lifetime, mostly from an intimate partner. This shows that domestic violence is not only a family problem but also a major global public health issue affecting millions of women.	Source: Source: World Health Organization (WHO), Violence Against Women Fact Sheet https://www.who.int/news-room/fact-sheets/detail/violence-against-women
Evidence 2	According to DHS In Cambodia, about 10.7% of ever-partnered women (ages 15–49) have experienced physical or sexual violence from an intimate partner in their lifetime, and 6.1% have experienced sexual violence. This shows that domestic violence is also a significant problem in Cambodian society and	Source: Source: World Bank Gender Data (DHS Cambodia) https://genderdata.worldbank.org/en/economies/cambodia directly affects women's health and safety.

Students can click File - Make a copy to create their own digital copy

Body Paragraph 2
Topic Sentence	Domestic violence in Cambodian society is mainly caused by gender inequality, harmful cultural beliefs, and alcohol abuse.
Evidence 1	Traditional gender roles in Cambodia, such as ideas that men have authority over women, can normalize controlling or violent behavior in relationships. This increases women's vulnerability to domestic violence. According to UN ...	Source: Source: UN Women Cambodia – Gender norms and violence https://asiapacific.unwomen.org/en/countries/cambodia
Evidence 2	Studies in Cambodia show that alcohol consumption by husbands is strongly linked to domestic violence, with many cases involving intoxicated partners during violent incidents. Women with frequently drinking partners face a significantly higher risk of abuse. According to DHS.....	Source: Source: Cambodia Demographic and Health Survey (DHS) https://dhsprogram.com/pubs/pdf/FR368/FR368.pdf

Body Paragraph 3
Topic Sentence	Domestic violence creates serious long-term social and economic problems for Cambodian society.
Evidence 1	As a result, many families experience financial difficulties and poverty. Domestic violence reduces women's ability to work and earn income due to injury, trauma, and missed workdays. Globally, violence against women can reduce productivity and increase poverty in households, especially in low- and middle-income countries like Cambodia. According to	Source: Source: World Bank – Gender-Based Violence and Economic Development https://www.worldbank.org/en/topic/socialsustainability/brief/violence-against-women-and-girls
Evidence 2	Domestic violence increases the burden on Cambodia's healthcare system, police, and social services, as victims require medical treatment, legal support, and protection services. This creates long-term costs for the government and society. According to ...	Source: Source: UN Women – Economic and social costs of violence against women https://www.unwomen.org/en
Conclusion
In conclusion, domestic violence in Cambodian society is a serious issue that affects individuals, families, and the nation as a whole. It is caused by gender inequality, alcohol abuse, and harmful cultural beliefs, and it leads to severe health problems, family breakdown, and long-term social and economic costs. Therefore, stronger education, legal protection, and public awareness are needed to reduce domestic violence and protect future generations.

Students can click File - Make a copy to create their own digital copy

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin black border, intended for a digital copy of a document or image.

Notes: